

PUMPKIN PATCHES IN SAN DIEGO

The smell of cinnamon, crisp leaves, and baked goods are in the cooling air now that it's fall (well...maybe just the scent of PSLs) and that only means one thing: pumpkin patches! Is there anything more idyllic than heading out to a farm and picking the best-looking pumpkin for carving? Or going for a hayride?

PUMPKIN STATION

The Pumpkin Station has several locations across San Diego: Del Mar, Rancho Bernardo, El Cajon, Mission Valley, National City and Bonita. At the Pumpkin Station, you can play games, go on antique carousels, giant slides and play areas for the kids, train rides, and even a petting zoo. It's basically a fall paradise. These patches are open from September 29 to October 29.

CARLSBAD PUMPKIN PATCH

Carlsbad Strawberry Company is best known for their hand picked strawberries, but in mid-September through October, part of the farms is converted into pumpkin patches and a corn maze. The farm is run by third generation farmers and is a focal point of Carlsbad, so you don't want to miss this place!

BATES NUT FARM

From September 23, 2017 to October 31, get to Bates Nut Farm for hayrides, a straw maze, face painting, kids games, and pumpkin picking. Bates Nut Farm has been providing fun fall themed events for kids and adults for over 50 years. Plus, your four legged friends are also welcome, as long as they're on leash.

OMA'S PUMPKIN PATCH

From September 26 to October 31, drive out to Lakeside for a fabulous day at Oma's Pumpkin Patch. Just pay $10 for your kid (this fee includes a water bottle and a pumpkin), and only $5 for adults. Kid tickets also include access to climbing walls, petting corrals, a tricycle race track, and more. Oma's Pumpkin patch has tiny pumpkins all the way up to monsters weighing 100 pounds or more for sale, plus you can grab other fall plant decor like corn stalks and gourds at their gift shop.

THE FARM STAND WEST

Both Farm Stands are participating this year in a fun “u-pick” pumpkin patch event. Both patches open on September 30. The locations are 2115 Miller Ave & 1980 Summit Dr. While The Farm Stand might not have as many extra fall events to tempt you, the ability to focus on picking the absolute best and biggest pumpkin for your jack-o-lantern is the prime focus for this patch.

SUMMER'S PAST FARMS

For the whole month of October, enjoy the fresh air at the Summer's Past Farms, while you search for the perfect pumpkin. Go on the weekends to enjoy popcorn and corndogs as well as coffee and smoothies from the Farms' coffee bar, and let the kids enjoy some inflatable jumping toys. As a bonus, Summer's Past Farms also host occasional fall themed events during October, so keep your eyes peeled for information!

PELTZER PUMPKIN FARMS

The Peltzer Pumpkin Farms in Temecula pride themselves in family friendly pumpkin and fall activities, including pig races, pony rides, hayrides, a petting farm, and even gem mining. The opening pumpkin day is September 24, and you bet all the coolest pumpkin hunters will be out bright and early. Through October, they'll play host to food trucks so you don't have to worry about bringing food while you search for your pumpkin. If pumpkins aren't your thing, they also have a winery you can tour.
